Pennington Seminary

AND

FEMALE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

A school of high grade for both sexes, with rare facilities for giving young ladies a finished education, as well as for training young men for college, teaching or business ; combining a thorough course of education, with the comforts and care of a good home.

This Institution is under the immediate control and patronage of the New Jersey Conference. The conference purchased it, not as a profitable pecuniary investment, but because they believed that the members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Church of New Jersey ought to possess a school worthy of their numbers and resources, which would enable them to take part directly in the great work of Christian Education. The Institution began its career as a school for both sexes on the 20th of May, 1853, and has, by its practical operation, fully vindicated the wisdom of the plan under which it was re-organized.

LOCATION.

The Seminary is located in Pennington, a village of about five hundred inhabitants, beautifully situated on the borders of the Hill country of New Jersey. It is about seven miles north of Trenton, with which it is connected by a railroad. The Seminary buildings occupy an elevated position, surrounded on all sides by beautiful scenery. The place is eminently healthful. The smallness of the population precludes, in a great measure, the various temptations with which cities and large towns abound. The Institution has also, from its situation, the advantages of being much less exposed to immoral influences, than if located at a less retired place, and the village has already become favorably known for the character of its schools as a suitable place for the education of youth.

BUILDINGS.

The buildings are commodious, airy, and well arranged for the comfort of the students, and for all the purposes of a first-class Male and Female Seminary. The two departments are entirely separate, and the young Gentlemen and Ladies are only together when in the Chapel, the Dining Hall or the Recitation Rooms. The entire building is warmed by furnaces, placed in the basement. The students' rooms are all neatly carpeted, and fully furnished ; also the halls of the Ladies' apartments. Connected with the buildings is a plot of land containing twenty-five acres, a part of which is beautifully shaded by a fine grove of maples.

Recently, a large and handsome wing has been added to the Seminary. This building is one hundred feet long, forty feet wide, and four stories high. It is admirably arranged and well finished, designed for the use of Ladies. We are very happy in being able to say to our patrons, that henceforth their daughters will find, in this new building, first-class accommodations. This arrangement enables us to appropriate all the former building to the gentlemen, thereby affording accommodations for double the number.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS TRAINING.

Two religious services are held daily in the Chapel, and the students are required to be present regularly, and participate in these devotions. There are two churches—Methodist and Presbyterian—in the village, and students will be required to attend at least the Sabbath morning service at such church as their parents or guardians may direct. In case no directions are given, students will be expected to attend with their teachers. A regularly organized Sunday School is held on Sabbath afternoon, and a general prayer meeting on Sunday evening, in the Chapel, for the benefit of all disposed to attend. Also, a class-meeting on Wednesday evening. Attention will be given to cultivating in the minds of the students a love of truth, and a regard for all the precepts of morality, as well as a courteous demeanor in all their intercourse with others. In the Sabbath School the Berean Series is used. No teachers will be employed who are not Christian ladies and gentlemen.

GOVERNMENT.

The system of government is firm, yet mild and parental. The teachers, both ladies and gentleman, reside in the Seminary buildings, and have constant supervision of the students. While attention is given to the strict enforcement of discipline in all the departments, every effort is made, to render the students contented and happy, and to secure for them the attractiveness and comforts of a well regulated home.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

This department is under the immediate control of the Principal. An experienced house keeper is employed to superintend the domestic arrangements. Great attention is given to this department, knowing that the health of the school depends very largely upon its proper management. The expressions of universal satisfaction, during the past year, are a sufficient guarantee for the future. The Principal is employed at a fixed salary, so that no opportunity is given of making the Institution a means of personal gain. The proceeds, if any, will be applied to furnishing additional comforts and literary advantages.

Our course of instruction, as will be seen above, embraces five departments. The studies of each of these departments are arranged progressively, to accommodate the development of the student's mind, and we earnestly recommend that they be taken up in the order in which they are arranged, yet, as pupils are constantly coming from schools and seminaries where there has been a different classification, this will not always be possible. In all such cases every possible effort will be made to accommodate our patrons, so that pupils shall not be compelled to take up studies before gone over, nor to have less than they can successfully prosecute.

ORNAMENTAL BRANCHES.

Vocal and instrumental music, wax work, hair work, drawing and painting.

Terms and Vacations.

The academic year is forty weeks long, beginning in September and closing in July. It is divided into three terms, as follows :

The Fall Term begins Monday, September 6, 1875, and closes Saturday, December 18th, 1875, followed by a vacation of two weeks. The Winter Term begins Monday, January 3d, 1876, and closes March 29th, 1876, followed by a vacation of one week. The Summer Term begins Thursday, April 7th, 1876, and closes Thursday, June 30th, 1876, followed by a vacation of nine weeks.

Expenses and Payments.

The total cost in the solid branches for the Academic year (40 weeks) is $250.00. This covers all expenses in languages, mathematics, sciences and English, including furnished room, carpet, board, tuition, book-keeping, washing (one dozen pieces per week), mending, fuel, penmanship and use of Library. No extras except in the ornamental department. We would call the special attention of those contemplating attending school to this fact, and desire that they compare our prices with those schools advertising at a cheaper rate for board and tuition in common English. We wish our patrons to know just what they have to pay, and not to find their bills at the end of the term much larger than they anticipated.

It will be seen, in the statement of expenses per year, that the cost of each term is as follows : Fall Term, fifteen weeks, $93.75. ; Winter Term, thirteen weeks, $81.25 ; Summer Term, twelve weeks, $75.00.

Half of this amount must be paid at the commencement of each term and the remaining half at the middle. Extra branches must be settled for at the close of each term before the student leaves.

Books can be purchased at the office of the Institution at the lowest retail prices, or rented at $5 per term.

Students may remain at the Seminary during vacation at a charge of $5.00 per week. This charge includes washing and fuel.

Course of Study.

The course of study embraces all the branches of a liberal education, whether solid or ornamental, that are taught in seminaries of the highest grade. Special instructions are given in Book-keeping. We are giving particular attention to those preparing for college, and to young men designing to enter the ministry. By virtue of an act of the Legislature of New Jersey, the authorities of the Institution are empowered to confer degrees in the Female Department. We would call the especial attention of young ladies desiring a THOROUGH EDUCATION to this fact. Students who pursue the course of study given above, and sustain a satisfactory examination, are entitled to a diploma from the Faculty and Trustees of the Institution. Under Graduates, who are obliged to leave before completing the course, will, on application, receive an honorable discharge, and a certificate of standing in the branches pursued.

Students applying for admission in advance, either to the ladies' graduating course, or to the classical or scientific course, will be examined in the studies previously pursued by the classes into which they propose to enter, and if sufficiently near the requisite standard, may be conditioned on the remaining studies or parts of studies, which conditions must be made up within the year, and satisfactory examination passed thereon.

No student shall be permitted to take less than three nor more than four studies—reading, spelling and writing not being counted.

No student shall be retained in a class if his recitations are continuously deficient, nor shall any one be advanced in any study whose average grade at the close of the term is below eighty-five.

We prepare students for any of the colleges in this country, but especially for Dickinson, Wesleyan University, Princeton and Yale. When the student desires it, we prepare him for the Sophomore Class in any of these colleges. When the student does not propose to enter college, we heartily recommend to him our scientific course, which bears a favorable comparison with the scientific courses pursued at colleges. This course was especially designed to meet the wants of that numerous class of young men who have only time and means for a thorough English education and for the modern languages. We take great pains in the education of young ladies, and have the best of facilities for this noble and responsible work. Our graduating course for young ladies embraces, as will be seen, a thorough and extended English education in connection with the ancient and modern languages. In music, painting, drawing, and all the ornamentals in wax, fruit and flowers, and hair work, we are prepared to give a most finished training.

All students are required to practice in reading, spelling and writing, until they become proficient in those branches.

INSTRUCTION.

The system of instruction is thorough and practical. Where the direction of their studies is left to the officers of the Institution, care will be taken that pupils have an adequate acquaintance with the English branches before they are permitted to engage in others, to their own detriment. The teachers keep a daily record of the attendance, conduct and recitations of each student, which will be read before the school every half term, and sent to the parents or guardians. The students, in their intercourse with each other and with the Faculty, are expected to be courteous. Students who will not abide by salutary rules and regulations will not be retained in the Institution. This has always been its policy, and in this an enlightened public sentiment has sustained it.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES.

Exercises in Elocution and English Composition are required of all students once a week.

EXAMINATIONS.

We aim to make our examinations impartial and thorough. Careless and indifferent students will not be retained in school after a fair trial.

There will be an examination at the close of each term in all the studies of that term.

MUSIC.

This department is under the charge of an able Professor of Music, whose Christian character and successful experience will, we are sure, commend him to the confidence of our patrons.

Superior advantages are offered to those who are seeking the benefits of a thorough and extended training in either vocal or instrumental music.

Ladies and gentlemen wishing to qualify themselves for the work of teaching music, will find the opportunities offered by this Institution second to none.

ORNAMENTAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department we have an experienced and eminently skillful lady artist, Mrs. M. D. Emery. In all the varieties of drawing, painting, wax work and hair work, she is capable of leading her pupils to the highest degree of excellence.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

We have a native teacher in German who is equally proficient in French. She is a very thorough scholar in these languages, and also an experienced teacher, having taught for years, both in Europe and in this country. We are prepared to teach reading, writing and conversation in these languages, and have facilities for teaching in this department unsurpassed by those of any other seminary in the country.

GENERAL EXERCISES.

Every Friday evening, during the Fall and Winter Terms, lectures on various subjects—Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Astronomy, History, Manners and Morals, &c.—are delivered by members of the Faculty and attended by the students. On Saturday mornings, public exercises are held in the Chapel, consisting of declamation and the reading of essays by the pupils, and music by the young ladies. On Saturday evenings, the Literary Societies hold their meetings. Their exercises not only instruct and improve the tastes of the students, but interest and gratify them, relieving the routine of regular study, and combining profit with pleasure.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The "Alpha Omega" is a society which has been sustained by the young gentlemen for a number of years. They have begun the collection of a Library, and for their meetings a suitable hall has been erected at an expense of $2,000.

The "Philomathean" is another society sustained by the gentlemen. It is in an equally flourishing condition, and gives promise of great usefulness.

The "Callilogian" is a society organized recently by the ladies, and already has a Library of choice books. It will, no doubt, contribute greatly toward the cultivation of a correct literary taste.

In addition to the collection mentioned above, we have the Seminary Library and Reading-Room, containing about two thousand volumes of well selected works.

Donations of books and articles for the various cabinets are earnestly solicited.

MEANS OF ACCESS TO THE SEMINARY.

Pennington is seven miles from Trenton. Trenton is the Capital of the State, and the central point of numerous railroads—not less than fifty trains arriving and departing during the day. There are three railroad trains—two in the morning and one in the evening—from Trenton to Pennington. Parties outside the State will come, from the north, by way of New York City, foot of Courtlandt street or Desbrosses street, via Trenton, direct to Pennington; those from the south, by way of Philadelphia, foot of Walnut street, or Kensington depot, or West Philadelphia depot, to Trenton, and thence to Pennington, via Mercer and Somerset railroad. Trains leave Trenton for Pennington: 8:10, 11:45 A.M., and 6:30 P.M. There is also a train leaving New York, via New Brunswick, for Pennington at 3.10 P.M.

SICKNESS.

Good care is taken of the sick. If needful, the best medical aid is called promptly. If the student is seriously ill, he or she is removed to a room pleasantly located and furnished, and provided with such special attention as is needed. In every case of dangerous illness, we send immediate intelligence to the parents or guardians.

OUTFIT.

Every student should be provided with trunk, towels, napkins, brushes, umbrella, slippers and Bible—all of which, together with every article of clothing, should be marked with the owner's name. We would prefer that each student should bring a napkin-ring, fork and tea-spoon; this, however, is a matter of choice with the student. A light blanket or bed-quilt for the bed, for protection against sudden changes of weather, would save exposure to colds.

MONEY REFUNDED.

In case a student has to leave school through providential necessity, moneys advanced will be refunded. This rule does not apply to students who are dismissed from the school for improper conduct, or who quit the school without the permission of the Principal.

EXPLANATIONS AND REMARKS.

No deduction is made (except in case of a new student) when a student enters soon after the beginning of a term. No extra branches charged for less than half a term.

Pupils over twelve years of age will be admitted at any time when there are vacancies.

No allowance can be made for absence during the term, unless it be occasioned by sickness or other casualty, and unless it exceeds a month.

Timely application for admission should be made to the Principal, and it is expected that notice of intention to withdraw a pupil will also be given. The latter is a matter of considerable importance, since a failure to observe this regulation prevents us from accepting applications to fill the vacancies thus created.

When a pupil is accepted, an agreement is virtually entered into to abide by all the published rules and regulations of the Institution. To remove a pupil before the actual close of the term, except for satisfactory reasons given to the Principal, is a violation of agreement. When a pupil is thus removed during the term, without proper notice, a month will be added to the charges, to compensate for losses attending such removal.

ADVANTAGES PECULIAR TO A BOARDING SCHOOL.

1. As our children must sooner or later leave home to act for themselves, it is better for them at first to go where there will be discipline, restraint, kindness and care. All this they will find at a good boarding school.

2. It is well known that children, in most cases, learn more rapidly at boarding schools than at schools near home—the rigid discipline as to study hours, the spirit of emulation that prevails, and the honors given at examinations and on anniversary occasions, all tend to excite the student to diligent study.

3. The self-reliance and social culture obtained at a boarding school are of great value. The students are treated as gentlemen and ladies; they are given to understand that conduct suitable to such a character is expected of them, and they feel constrained to meet this just expectation. As they are with their teachers in the dining hall, and in all places where they gather, and as politeness is demanded of every student, there is naturally great improvement in all the qualities that make up the character of the self-reliant gentleman and lady.

This latter advantage is peculiarly the result of attending a boarding school of both sexes. The young lady or gentleman going out from such a school is at ease in the parlor or in company, anywhere. Persons of either sex, educated without this advantage, are very apt, when thrown into promiscuous company, to show a restraint bordering on awkwardness, painful to themselves as well as to those with whom they associate.

Among the qualities cultivated by schools attended by both sexes, the following have been suggested by long observation: neatness, absence of rudeness, strengthened sense of honor and manliness, self-command and scholarship in young men, and self-reliance, scholarship, wide views of life, and a more just view of woman's sphere in young ladies.

A WORD TO PARENTS.

1. Try to have your children here at the commencement of the Term. The classes are then formed, and it will be better for all concerned to have the student start regularly with his class. The student should arrive on the published day of opening. The rooms cannot generally be made ready until that time.

2. If possible, do not call them away during the session. Absence, if only for a few days, disarranges the classes, and is generally the beginning of irregularity on the part of the scholar.

3. Do not allow your children to leave the school before the examination, unless it cannot be avoided. Serious inconvenience often arises from a neglect of this caution. Absence from examination at the end of the term, except in case of sickness, will cut down the standing of the student in scholarship ten per cent.

Reasons why the student should come on the first day of the term:

The expenses at the Seminary are no greater than in the case of the student who arrives several days later.

On the second day of the term we start all the classes, and the student who fails to begin with his class, not only has back lessons to bring up, but is likely to be embarrassed, on account of this absence, during the whole term.

Reasons why the student should not go home during the term:

It will not cure home-sickness, but rather makes it worse when the student returns.

It interrupts the course of study and lessens the average grade for the term, since recitations during such absence are marked a failure.

Rules of the Seminary.

1. All students, immediately upon their arrival, are expected to report themselves to the Principal; and being admitted, to adjust their bills at the office, and read these rules.

2. At the first bell in the morning, students will rise and prepare for the duties of the day. A list of articles for the wash must be furnished on Monday morning. Articles not legibly marked with the owner's name, with indelible ink, will either be returned unwashed, or be marked at the student's expense.

3. Study hours, embracing the recitation hours, will be published at the commencement of each term. These hours must be devoted exclusively to study and recitation. Every other employment is in violation of rule, especially visiting each other's rooms, loitering in the halls, in any of the apartments, or at the doors, leaving for any purpose the Seminary premises without special permission, or making any unnecessary noise by which others may be disturbed, such as passing roughly up or down stairs, playing musical instruments, singing, whistling, or reading aloud.

4. Smoking in or about the building, frequenting places of amusement, drinking spirituous liquors or entering places where they are sold, playing at games of chance, using profane, rude or indecent language, immodest conversation or behaviour, and all other practices opposed to morality and order, are totally forbidden.

5. Due respect must be observed toward all the officers of the Institution; and a courteous bearing is required toward officers, students, and all others.

6. Students' rooms shall be accessible to members of the faculty at all times. No student may enter another's room without the occupant's permission. The occupants of rooms are responsible for improper conduct occurring or tolerated in their rooms, and for all injury done to them or to the furniture while in their possession. Conversation from the windows is forbidden. Nothing must be thrown from the windows.

It is strictly forbidden to the occupants of the building, at any time and in any event, to raise an outcry or alarm calculated to excite a panic.

7. Students shall at the time designated, be present at prayers in the Chapel, and while attending any religious service, the strictest order, decorum, and seriousness must be observed.

8. The Sabbath must be regarded with becoming reverence. During this day, all walking the streets or fields for pleasure, collecting in each other's rooms for conversation or amusement, or receiving visits from those not connected with the Seminary, music, vocal or instrumental, unless sacred, prosecuting secular labor or studies, all boisterous deportment and practices prohibited in well-bred christian families, are totally forbidden. All students are required to attend public worship at one of the village churches.

9. Permission to be absent from church must be obtained from some member of the Faculty.

10. Students cannot leave town or absent themselves from their rooms at night, without permission from the Principal or Preceptress.

11. Students will not be allowed to leave the Institution, except for the most satisfactory reasons, without permission from their parents or guardians. All are considered members of the Institution until regularly discharged.

12. No student entering upon the last session of the year shall be at liberty to decline taking part in the Public Examinations and Exhibitions.

13. Students cannot leave a class without the consent of its teacher, and the written permission of the Principal. Those who are absent from recitation, or deficient in any exercise required of them, without satisfactory excuse, will be reported to the Principal.

14. Students cannot exchange rooms, or seats assigned them in the Dining Hall, without the consent of the Principal.

15. No gentleman, whether connected with the Institution or not, shall visit any person in the Ladies' Department, without the permission of the Principal. The two sexes shall not associate on any occasion, without the consent of the Principal, or in his absence, the acting Principal. Communications in writing, between the ladies and gentlemen, are forbidden.

16. No Secret Societies are permitted, but Literary Societies, whose constitutions and by-laws have been approved by the Principal, may meet one evening a week for regular exercises. No special meetings shall be held in study hours, and no public meeting shall be appointed without the consent of the Principal; and all exercises shall be subject to inspection by the Faculty before the public meeting. No Society may continue its exercises after 9.30 o'clock.

17. The bell preceding ten o'clock is the signal for replenishing pitchers. It is then permitted the students to quietly pass out for a brief time, avoiding confusion. Having provided themselves with water and other conveniences for the night, they should return directly to their rooms.

18. Ten o'clock is the hour for retiring. It is then required of the students, with the utmost order and quiet, to retire for the night. The rooms in which the lights are not extinguished by five minutes past ten, will be visited and reported to the Principal. No student is permitted to burn camphene, burning fluid, or other highly inflammable mixture. At the time of retiring, the water pail or pitcher of any room must not be empty. Fire-arms, gunpowder, or fire-works of any kind, must not be brought upon the premises. Lights must be extinguished by five minutes past ten.

The Faculty, in carrying the above rules into effect, will affix such penalty to their violation as is usual in literary institutions, and as they deem best. Whenever in their judgment the case requires it, dismissed students will be published as such in the next issue of the Catalogue.

19. On entering and retiring from the Dining Hall, the Chapel, and the Recitation Rooms, the utmost decorum is required.

20. The hours for taking exercise are as follows: For the ladies, immediately after recitation hours in the afternoon; for the gentlemen, after breakfast, after dinner and supper.

21. The study and recitation hours are as follows: From 8.30 A.M. to 12 M.; from 1.30 to 4.15 P.M., and from Chapel service in the evening to 9.30 P.M.

22. For five demerit marks the offender will be campused for three days, or publicly reprov'd, at the discretion of the Principal; the further penalties shall be suspension, dismissal or expulsion, as the case may require.

23. Absence from examination at the end of the term will cut down the scholarship of the student ten per cent.

24. All mail matter for the students will be brought to the Seminary in the mail boxes, and distributed by the Principal and Preceptress.

25. Cleanliness and tidiness, both in the personal habits of the students and in the condition of their rooms, will be rigidly exacted. Lounging on the beds at any time from the hour of rising till the hour of retiring is strictly forbidden.

26. No student, except in case of sickness, will be allowed to enter the Dining Hall and take a meal after the regular hours.

27. The office hour for purchasing books and stationery, or for attending to any business with the Principal, is half an hour immediately preceding morning Chapel service.

Final Remarks.

We enter upon the present Academic year under new and highly favorable auspices, having railroad facilities direct to Pennington. The Seminary buildings have been refitted and refurnished throughout, including carpet through the halls and in the rooms. These improvements have given to the Seminary a neat and home-like appearance, rarely to be found in boarding schools. We have selected the Faculty with unusual care, and we think they possess more than ordinary adaptation to the different departments of instruction. They are teachers of thorough culture and long experience; some of them, indeed, have attained to eminence in their respective departments. We are confident that we deserve the public patronage, and are equally confident that if the public will take pains to ascertain our merits, they will give us their patronage.
